

Women's Health Matters is conducting a community consultation survey of ACT women from multicultural backgrounds to learn more about their health and wellbeing needs. This is an opportunity for ACT women from multicultural backgrounds to share their voice.

The survey will help Women's Health Matters to identify gaps, barriers and emerging trends that will influence and inform future advocacy efforts.

health matters!

the voice for women's health and wellbeing in the ACT

Women's Health Matters is seeking to explore views about:

- Understanding & management of their health & wellbeing needs,
- The types of health services & supports they access,
- Whether there are difficulties with their access health services in the ACT
- How they seek health & wellbeing information.
